The application has been amended as follows:

Cancel claim 21, non-elected claim without traverse.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: claims are allowable at least for the reason that the prior art does not teach or reasonably suggest the all layers of the mirror body connect with each other on the surface by means as set forth in the claimed combination, wherein the first intermediate layer is made with a material with reduced heat expansion coefficient satisfies the condition as set forth in the claimed invention.

Kendall (US Patent No. 6,053,241) discloses the cooled mirror having a mirror body including several layers (see Fig. 1), however, the reference does not include all layers of the mirror body that connect with each other on the surface by means of direct copper bonding or active soldering and also does not satisfy conditional equation.
